Of five captured German submarines sent to this country, loan managers plan to run one up the Mississippi river and to exhibit the others at coast cities.

As in the past every subscriber will receive a special button of which 40,000,000 have been made, and distinctive badges for the workers have been provided.

unctive badges for the workers have been provided.

Six posters, with a total issue of 10,000,000, have been distributed. The titles and designers of these are as follows: "Sure, we'll finish the job," by Gerritt A. Heneker: "For Home and Country." by Alfred E. Orr: "Invest—Teaser:" "Americans All" by Howard Chandler Christy: "And They Thought We Couldn't Fight." by Clyde Forsythe, "They Kept the Seg Lanes Open," by L. A. Shafer.

Advertising Plan.

The principal phampjets to be used as a means of driving home the story of the war and the duty of those who of the war and the duty of those who stayed at home to finance it with their dollars are those "Where the Money Went," by James H. Collins, "The Watch on the Ithine," by Serst Maj, Allan C. Rankin, "The Price We Pay," "Speaker's Hamibok," and one giving the recent Liberty loan speech of Secretary Glass at Pitsburgh. One hundred specially designed advertisements have been presigned advertisements have been pr pared in a portfolio for discribinion to newspapers. These advertise ments in all cases are to be published without expense to the government but will be paid for by the commercial houses, or by public spirited at izens or organizations. This policy is similar to that followed in the pass

In each Liberty has district head-quarters published directors have ac-ranged a system of releasing news to the papers. As part of this great publicity system the managers have planned to gather figures on soft-scriptions each day through the fed-eral reserve banks and finally through the treasury at Washington Practically every street car in the United States will display some of the six street car placards contrib-uted by Barron G.
